BROCHURE

Dear Student,

Welcome to India's most prestigious and the most successful coaching Institute for Law (for Judicial Services Exams). I am grateful to you to have trusted the name.

We, at Rahul's I.A.S. do promise to teach you to the best possible and to fulfill all our commitments made to you at the time of admission. Please remember that you have joined the best institute of India for Law (for Judicial Services Exams). Our genuine results, the faith of the students in us, the work culture, the teaching pattern, etc., -everything is an evidence of that. Since you have joined the best institute, let me tell you also that here the teaching pattern will be totally exam focused and in depth. That might appear to be tough to some of you; but that is the requirement of the exams. We have to live by it. The topics which are the most difficult and the most important will be taught the most exhaustive and detailed. The easier and less important topics will be taught less detailed and only as much as is required for the exams. In every subject, on some non important topics some burden will be put on the students to prepare themselves. That would constitute hardly 5-6 percent of the syllabus for that subject. My only appeal to the students is: Be regular and punctual to the classes; be positive and forward looking; be open to us—in case of any complaint, directly write and give your complaint to the authorities; have full faith in the organization that you have joined—we will always give you the best possible teaching as we are always aware of the quantum of faith and the trust you have bestowed upon us, and moreover, we are always concerned with the fact that we have to remain the best and to produce the maximum no. of genuine results.

Inside the class room you are free to ask questions but only when the teacher invites your questions; don't obstruct the teacher when he is teaching in a flow. If the teacher so requires, please write your question on a piece of paper and give it to him; if it is relevant it will be answered the same day or the next day. All your relevant questions will certainly be answered.

The focus and pattern of our teaching will be as follows:

- Topic wise synopsis of all sub-topics and thread bare conceptual explanations and discussions with maximum diagrammatic representations & repetitions—wherever needed, these discussions will be dictated or will be repeated to enable you to write it, or a write up on the discussion will be provided.
- The student shall be alert and keen on writing the points when the teacher is explaining. The teaching style of different teachers here may be different and therefore the students are advised to quickly get accustomed to it for their own benefit (though their pattern and approach will be the same).
- Important and difficult previous years' questions and other questions will be discussed in the class. Model answers of some of these questions will also be dictated or supplied in writing. The students are advised to minutely follow these model answers and other answer writing tips and practice the other questions on the same pattern. If a student wants some other questions to be discussed he/she may write and give it to the teacher who will discuss it in the class whenever he finds it suitable. If the teacher invites, the questions can be asked directly in the class also by raising hand.

- For the Preliminary exams we have sufficient no. of subject wise standard test papers. A student has to attempt these test papers in the classroom as and when a test is announced. It is compulsory for every student to attend these test papers. 14 days after the completion of a subject there will be a compulsory objective and subjective test on the subject.
- All important case laws—Landmark or Current, would be discussed in the class. These cases will also be supplied to the students for their personal reference. These cases shall be carefully studied and be preserved; any distribution of these cases to outsiders will entail a termination of your admission.
- Answer writing practice sessions will also be held during the classes and the students are advised to take these sessions very seriously. The teacher would discuss the model answer to these questions in the class itself.
- During the classes Rahul Sir and other teachers would also deliver some motivational lectures to boost your confidence and preparations. You are advised to take these lectures positively as they are for your benefit only.
- Every next lecture may have a small portion of question round wherein the teacher will ask questions on whatever he/she has taught in the previous lectures. Students are advised to be prepared every day. In case a student fails to respond continuously, the concerned teacher may talk to his/her parents.
- For G.S., Current affairs and Essays, there will special focused classes by specialists.
- For Translation , English, Precis writing, Essay writing etc.,there will be special test papers for regular practice.
- For Current Affairs and latest legal developments & current case laws, there will be a special monthly magazine free of cost supplied to the students.
- The classes will be interactive , to entertain all doubts of the students.
- There will be special counsellors for law and G.S. to give personal guidance to the students.
- Inside the class room you are free to ask questions but only when the teacher invites your questions; don't obstruct the teacher when he is teaching in a flow. If the teacher so requires, please write your question on a piece of paper and give it to him; if it is relevant it will be answered the same day or the next day. All the relevant queries of the students will be solved by the teachers.

The following are the rules and regulations to be followed by the students during the course schedule. These are to bring about a sense of discipline amongst the students and also to avoid any wastage of time of the organization, in particular, the time of the teachers, as we want to concentrate more upon our studies and good teaching. Ultimately, it is for your benefit only. We expect you to take these in a positive frame of mind and to strictly adhere to the same:

Why Rahul's IAS only?

- It is the oldest Law coaching institute in Delhi. Rahul Sir started teaching at a personal level in 1997 and after having taught for 5 years informally, he formally gave it the name 'Rahul's IAS' in 2001(end). Being the oldest coaching institute, it has the maximum of experience in teaching. Rahul Sir personally has been teaching for the last 21 years and he is still teaching all the main subjects personally, though now we have a team of 3 other teachers for Law for other law subjects and 5 teachers for GS and Essay. With more and more experience in teaching, a teacher gets exposed to diverse circumstances and questions and hence his teaching becomes more innovative, creative and effective. Additionally, he reads and researches as much and that is what makes the teacher a class apart. All other teachers here are also highly experienced and updated. The best aspect of Rahul's IAS is that here the teachers work very hard, putting in a minimum of 5-6 hours of self studies(apart from the classes) daily and thus they are all highly updated with the latest case laws and the concepts in depth•
- The fact that maximum no. of students have been coming to study here in itself is the proof that it is the best coaching institute in India for Judiciary (we ae not teaching for the IAS exams presently).
- The classes are highly interactive and regular question answer sessions are held in the classes. The teachers are particularly instrumental in arousing inquisitiveness in the minds of students and then to answer their queries.
- The questions can be asked through chits or by raising their hands or by personally meeting the concerned teacher. The chit system makes it easier and simpler for students to ask questions, otherwise most of the students are hesitant in asking their questions directly and their queries remain unanswered. The chit system facilitates more queries to be asked in the class and makes the classes more productive and effective. Chit system is a unique feature of Rahul's IAS and helps in effectively solving all the queries of students.
- Very detailed exhaustive notes on Law subjects, G.S., G.K., Essays, English, Translation, Judgment writing etc., are provided at the time of admission and during the classes, so that the students can prepare the subjects from before. That makes it easier for the students to understand the class lectures. We don't provide 'bullet notes' which are very brief and are not useful; rather we provide very exhaustive and detailed meticulously prepared notes. We don't teach here from any bullet notes or any pre- circulated notes or power point presentation. A teacher who teaches from such notes or power point is busy reading the notes and he is not able to be innovative while teaching. He will be restricted only to his notes, whereas these exams require a student to have a very high level of conceptual clarity. One has to be different from the others. We do provide the notes but our teachers do not teach from these notes; the notes are only for the students' personal reference. Our teachers, while teaching, rise much above the notes and are innovative. They are able to give a very high level of conceptual clarity and they give some such points to the students which are not to be found in the books and are very rare to be found else where. That is what makes us different.
- Our teaching is 'case law and Bare Act' based and not text book based. Our teaching is highly concept based. That gives a cutting edge to our students(their answers are much different from the others as they contain such points and concepts which are not to be found in the normal text books). We provide hundreds of original case laws and also specially prepared model questions -answers, based on the current cases, which is a unique feature of Rahul's IAS. Reading the original cases gives a cutting edge to our students as these cases help our students acquire and inculcate the 'judicial mind' which is a must for cracking these exams.

- Having sufficiently large batch sizes, the level of competition here is very high. The more are the students in the class, the more will be their queries, and that will further raise the standard of teaching. The more are the students in the class, the greater is the sense of responsibility upon the teacher, the more repetitive the teacher has to be. That raises the standard of teaching to a very high level. Students of any kind of academic background are able to understand the concepts easily due to the repetitions and questions asked in the class. The students here positively compete with each other to raise their levels, and that results into a brighter chance of success. Again this is a unique feature of Rahul's IAS.
- We have the maximum no. of genuine results- more than 3000 students from here have cleared the Judicial and many other exams (APO,Law Officers,JAG,etc.,) till date.That is what makes us unique and different. More of success gives us more of experience, responsibility and motivation. The students here are at a very high level of motivation and energy due to the personalised kind of environment that is created in the classrooms by the teachers.
- Most important fact is that in the years 2017-19 (till date) alone, 313 students from Rahul's IAS have cleared the Judicial exams. This includes 9 students who have obtained the 1st rank in various states and 61 students who have secured ranks in top 10 and 94 students who have secured ranks in top 20 in the various states. No other law coaching institute (Judiciary) in India has produced even 1/5th of this number of results in these 2 years. This no. of results at Rahul's IAS has been despite the fact that in the year 2017 no major notifications(excepting very few) were announced. The results and the quality of results(the top ranks) itself speaks volumes about the standard and level of Rahul's IAS. We are far far ahead of any other law coaching institute in terms of our results and performance. We take immense pride in the fact that we are actually the best in terms of our quality of education which is manifest in our results.
- Maximum no. of 1st Rankers and toppers in top 10 till date are from Rahul's IAS. That again makes Rahul's IAS unique.
- Most important aspect is that apart from other experienced, hard working, highly cooperative, accomodative and student friendly teachers, Rahul Sir is personally teaching the maximum no. of subjects. Rahul Sir and the other teachers are able to compare and give an intra and inter subject approach to the students. The inter and intra subject linkages, coupled with the correlation with land mark and current judgments and the correlation with the Constitution of India and the basic principles of law as well as the rules of interpretation provided by the teachers here is a unique feature of Rahul's IAS. That kind of approach is highly recommended and required for these highly competitive exams. That raises the level of conceptual clarity of the students and also the standard of their answers. After all, in such a competitive environment, an aspirant has to be different from the others. Our teaching pattern gives our students an outright cutting edge over the others.
- Our lecture style is highly explanation based. We first explain the concepts orally, extempore and diagrammatically several times (until the teacher is assured that each and every student has understood it) and then we dictate in details, the concepts in an exam format. This makes the students understand, learn and retain the concepts clearly and easily. Moreover it makes answer writing easier and also acts as a writing practice.This also helps the student in increasing his writing speed. It also helps in learning and acquiring better English. A teaching which does not involve a detailed dictation, is the worst kind of teaching. After the coaching gets over, the student should have a proper material written by himself so as to be able to revise the concepts easily and effectively.
- Our teachers focus specially upon a thorough and threadbare 'Bare Act' interpretation with all kinds of inter and intra linkages. The teaching here is topical and not section wise. Section wise approach is not suitable for these exams. Topical approach (which covers all the sections also) takes care of P.T., Mains as well as the Interview. Our teaching is highly professional and exam oriented. A mere academic approach is not suitable for these exams. Individual topics need to be focussed according to their complexity and importance in the exams. Topical study means picking up a topic and discussing all its dimensions in details involving all sections of the same law or other laws coupled with a detailed conceptual clarity including all landmark judgments.

- Hundreds of Model Answers are provided in a printed form as well as dictated (in different formats) in the class with proper analysis so as to make answer writing easy and natural to our students.
- Regular answer writing tests are conducted which are evaluated by the teachers with proper remarks and are discussed individually by the teachers with the students in order to give them a proper feedback.
- The teachers here are highly interactive with the students and normally the teacher waits in the class after the lecture has got over, so as to personally interact with students to solve their doubts.
- We take approximately a minimum of 1522 hours of class room lectures to complete the syllabus which again is a unique feature of Rahul's IAS. The more of time is given to the students, the better is the teaching standards and conceptual clarity.
- We don't engage ourselves in other courses like weekend batches, crash courses, IAS classes, CLAT courses, LLB or LLM courses etc., and therefore our teachers get maximum time to focus upon the judicial batches. This makes them more effective, interactive and productive.
- We keep providing material and psychological support to our students for several years even after the completion of their course, without charging anything extra. The Interview Guidance Programme is free for all our students whenever they take the Interview (even after the course is over).
- A completely separate team of 5-6 teachers for GK, GS, Current affairs and Essays are working here to take care of these very important and indispensable aspects of these exams.
- A separate in-house magazine on current affairs, Essays, translations, English, précis writing and current legal issues and current cases is provided to the students here every month during the continuation of the course and for years even after the completion of the course. We also provide 3 sets of objective test papers with 150 questions each on GS, GK and current affairs with explanatory answers every month. This is a unique feature of Rahul's IAS.
- We provide hundreds of objective test papers on Law and GK, GS, English, etc., and translation papers during the entire course and even after the completion of the course.
- We conduct weekly tests in the classrooms in exam like conditions.
- There are 3 specialised counsellors (Mr. Krishna, Mr. Anand and Mr. Anjani) for G.S., G.K. and Law (apart from the teachers), and they are available from 10 am till 7 pm everyday(except Sundays), to provide personalised material and psychological support and counselling to the students during the continuance of the course and even after the completion of the course, either in personal presence or on telephone or through email/ whatsapp, etc.,
- There is a team of 8 to 10 research scholars for Law, current affairs and GS working continuously to provide latest and updated material, including latest cases, to the students. This is a unique feature of Rahul's IAS.
- The course package includes the prelims, Mains and special interview classes and mock interview sessions conducted by retired High Court and Sessions Judges and subject experts, with proper feedback. This facility for interview sessions and test papers (including current cases and Magazines) is available even after the course gets over. No extra fees will be charged for it.

- There are several projectors (7-8) with screens in the classrooms to make it easier for the students to see whatever is being taught irrespective of where he/ she is sitting. The teachers here use a lap top and writing pad to write the points and to draw the diagrams on the spot to give a pictographic effect to their teaching. There are high quality microphones and sound system(with 80+ high quality speakers) to create a strong audio effect to the teaching. The teachers are highly active and they use a strong and expressive body language to make their teaching effective.
- The conditions here are highly conducive for efficient studies- neat and clean environment, spacious and hygienic conditions in classrooms and toilets (separate 'Mall' like toilets for boys and girls), adherence with fire safety and all other safety and municipal norms, a separate in-house cafeteria available exclusively for students of Rahul's IAS. The classrooms and the waiting lobby for the students are centrally air conditioned.
- There is a heavy duty generator permanently installed so as to take care of the continuity of classes and the air conditioners in case of electricity failure.
- There are two high quality lifts installed in the building.
- The stairs are also very spacious (7 feet broad). There are several entries and exits in each classroom.
- Male & Female guards are posted for proper security checks , with latest security equipments.
- For the above purpose we have shifted (in June, 2018) the class room of English medium to a new venue: A-4, Wazirpur Industrial Estate, near Shalimar Bagh Metro Station-Gate no. 3.
- Having informed you about all the unique features and facilities at Rahul's IAS, I would personally like to tell you that the most important aspect of a coaching institute is the teaching methodology and teaching standards of the teachers. I am personally of the view that a teacher should be extempore and innovative with great communication skills and that comes only with more of experience and exposure. The teacher should be able to read the facial expressions and the mind of the students. The teacher should be able to penetrate into the mind, the heart and the nerves of the student. Even amongst hundreds of students he should be able to make a student feel as if he/she is teaching that individual student alone. The teacher should not just be a teacher, rather he should be a coach who does not impart only knowledge, rather he/she is able to train his students in their mind and body, he is able to impart a particular way of life to his/her students, a set of values and duty towards the society and the Nation on the lines of the essential and indispensable principles of the Constitution of India, a feeling of compassion towards the day to day happenings of life and towards the society. The real teacher is him/her who is able to arouse curiosity and inquisitiveness in the mind of the student so that the student raises questions and is able to solve these questions with the help of the teacher. A real teacher and coach is a person whose mere presence gives a great deal of motivation to the students. No matter how much of organised set up, digitalisation and material you provide, if you are not able to give conceptual clarity and the audio visual impact upon the mind of the students coupled with a strong feeling of inspiration and motivation to the students, you are a failed teacher and a coach. A real teacher is the one who is able to make his/her students visualise and live the things that he/she is teaching and who is able to have a long lasting effect of his teachings upon the mind of the student. Ultimately what matters is what the student carries in his mind directly from the classes. We at Rahul's IAS do possess these requisites and apart from the logistical support above mentioned, we are highly focussed upon the above attributes. We take immense pride in the fact that through our teachings we are not only preparing our students for the exams, rather we are instilling values in our students. We are instilling in them a sense of compassion and duty towards the Society and the Nation. That is what makes our students a class apart. They are excellent not only in their knowledge, concepts and writing skills, rather also in their duties towards the society and the Nation. I believe Rahul's IAS is not just a coaching institute, it is rather a family of highly motivated, energised, proactive, constructive, aware, compassionate and positive minded individuals. Our results and the performance of our students after they get into their respective jobs is a clear manifestation of the same. God bless. ... Rahul Sir.

A few final words...

This is a genuine effort to guide you in the right direction for your preparations for the Judicial services exams. I hope you will have a good time with us and you actually will get enlightened by our efforts. Clearing the exams is not difficult. You just have to catch the nerve of it. One has to be very professional and focused in his/her approach. Right and selective reading, synopsizing of every topic, understanding the nature of questions on every topic and sub-topics thereof, proper conceptual clarity, proper understanding of case laws, constant question analysis and writing practice, and a continuous effort to internalize the things one reads, is the key to success. Frequent revision, discussions and mental analysis is a must. A complete devotion and full engrossment into your preparations is what makes you learn and understand faster. Intelligent and innovative studies is actually what makes you different from the others; and your being different is a must to get through. What makes the successful students succeed is the fact that they have understood the above requisites and are totally planned in their approach. The fact is that one should be true to oneself; merely studying for 10-15 hrs./day is not sufficient—thousands of students do that; success is achieved only by those who plan it out properly and implement it effectively. Each and every moment of your day should be intelligently planned.

Since you have joined a coaching institute, please remember, coaching institutes are just facilitators; without your efforts no coaching institute can make you get through. By joining a coaching institute you just buy time and confidence for yourself. What you could probably have done yourself over a longer period of time, you are made to do faster and more professionally in a coaching institute. Please remember: A coaching institute does not give you something out of world, we only speed up the things and make you organize things better and in the correct perspective. We, at Rahul's IAS will definitely give you the cutting edge. You just have to be positively alert, vigilant and receptive to gather it and make it your tool of success. We will not only give you the knowledge, we will rather also give you a complete and comprehensive approach—a sense of confidence and self pride; a feeling of uprightness; a never say die attitude towards the exams and towards life in general. Still your individual efforts are to be the actual reason for your success. We will give you concepts and well compiled material; We will tell you how to study; we will motivate you; we will be with you in the hours of need; we will give you the latest case laws; we will teach and explain the concepts to you to the hilt; we will, to an extent, even force you to study. We will certainly give you the pedestal beyond which you have to build up. The higher is the pedestal provided, the easier it becomes for you. We will certainly give you the highest possible pedestal. That is what makes us different from all others. We are professionals and do understand the ins and outs of the exams. The position in which we are placed is in itself sufficient enough a motivation for us to make the best efforts to teach you to the best of our potential. You just be positive and receptive.

Wish you all the best. Create the killing instinct and hit your target hard-- Success will be yours. Take it to your nerves. No one is born and destined to succeed; one has to achieve it by his/her hard efforts.

Wishing you a happy and successful stay at Rahul's I.A.S.,
